CHARLESTON IS ISOLATED BY FREAK STORM NO OUTSIDE COMMUNICATION

Army Will Be Inoculated Thoroughly

Official Army Order Seeks Eradication of Typhoid Fever.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The entire army of the United States is to be inoculated against typhoid fever—officers and privates alike. An order was issued by Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, making it compulsory for every officer and enlisted man in the army under 45 years of age to subject himself to the typhoid fever vaccination. This applies to all those who have not heretofore had typhoid fever or who have not been inoculated with the germ. Heretofore it has been voluntary on the part of an officer or private in the army whether he should subject himself to the experiment, but from today every one serving in Uncle Sam's fighting force must undergo the experience.

Suicides In Streets Of Gotham

New York, Aug. 29.—Arthur S. Veit, a son of the Standard Oil company's manager of water transportation, Richard C. Veit, shot himself through the heart in the street. The young man was a clerk in the foreign shipping department of the Standard Oil company. When the news spread through the financial districts, where Veit was fairly well known, his friends were dumfounded. None was able to hit upon a reason for the suicide.

Massillon, O., Aug. 29.—Sauerkraut will be tried as a winter diet at the state hospital and physicians are to take observations of the mental and physical condition of the patients.

Reached Hurricane Proportions and Did Great Damage.

FIVE PERSONS REPORTED DEAD

Telephone and Telegraph Completely Demoralized, Electric Light and Power Plants Disabled and Business Generally Obstructed—Wind Reached Velocity of Ninety Miles an Hour and Tide Was Over Eight Feet—Rice and Cotton Affected.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 29.—As the result of a freak storm which struck this city and Savannah, and which reached hurricane proportions, this city was practically isolated from the world for 24 hours.

Telephone and telegraph is totally demoralized, the electric light and power plants are disabled, and business is badly obstructed. The wind reached a velocity of 94 miles an hour, with the result that scores of houses have been wrecked. Shipping has suffered greatly, many large schooners having been blown ashore. The lower sections of the city were entirely inundated for the period of 18 hours, caused by the high tide blown in by the wind. The train service to and from the city is demoralized on account of the tracks having been washed away. The tide was over eight feet during the storm, three feet short of the record of 1893. Considerable damage was done by the water in the low section, necessitating many people being removed from their houses.

Great damage is feared for rice and sea island cotton industries. The fertilizer mills were also badly damaged. All of the mills lost their smokestacks, water towers, heads of houses and some of their roofing. In the city the damage is large in the unroofing of houses, toppling over of chimneys, etc.

Under the Horse's Feet.

Toledo, O., Aug. 29.—While Philip Zielinski, 17, a huckster, was driving in a one-horse wagon on Detroit avenue, a sudden jolt of the vehicle threw the driver from his seat into the street under the horse's feet. Before the man could crawl out of the way he was kicked in the abdomen by the frightened animal and so badly injured that he died in two or three minutes.

Man and Babies Dead Wife's Death Causes Tragedy

Grief Over Wife's Death Culminates in Quadruple Tragedy.

Rockland, Me., Aug. 29.—The most peculiar case in Maine's long list of homicides was uncovered here when the housekeeper for Edward Bennett of South Thomaston entered his house and found his three children dead. With them she found a letter in which Bennett announces his own death and goes on to tell how death came to each of the children and justifies the act. The children, Edward, 6; Barbara, 4; and Nancy, 2, were killed. Edward and Nancy by chloroform poisoning and Barbara by cyanide of potassium. A short time later Bennett's body was found floating on the water close to the shore. Three weeks ago his wife died, and since that time he has done nothing but brood and exhibit signs of melancholia.

This Is Some Cheese

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 29.—There is being made at the Gody factory at West Martinsburg a cheese weighing 3,000 pounds and measuring 75 inches in diameter and 44 inches in height. The curd from which it was made was prepared at five factories. The cheese is to be sent to the state fair for exhibition.

ENORMOUS INCREASE MADE BY COMMISSION

Valuations of Ohio Light Plants and Pipe Lines.

TAX COMMISSION ON THE JOB

Water Transportation Companies Placed on the State Duplicate For More Than One Hundred Thousand Dollars—Final Value of Twenty-seven Million on All Electric Light Plants of the State—Buckeye Pipe Line Hard Hit.

Columbus, O., Aug. 29.—Valuations of electric light plants and pipe lines have been increased enormously by the state tax commission. A final 1911 valuation of $27,745,130 was placed on all the electric light plants in the state. This is an increase of $21,256,433 over the total valuation last year, or an increase of more than 400 per cent.

The biggest increase in the state was on the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, which was increased by the commission from $3,799,895 to $11,375,000. The value placed on the electric light plant of the Columbus Railway and Light company is $3,960,000, an increase of 550 per cent.

Made Ill By Three Beers

Physician Writes Letter to Food Officials, Then Shoots Himself.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Made ill by three glasses of beer, Dr. John E. Enebsam, a 70-year-old physician of this city, wrote a letter just before he shot and killed himself, begging the agricultural department to regulate the manufacture of the beverage. A "pure beer" hearing was held at the department only a few weeks ago. In his letter to Coroner Nevitt, complaining that three glasses of beer drove him to suicide, Dr. Enebsam held that the beverage had been adulterated. He added: "I am past 70 and, being a German, I drank beer all my life, and never had any trouble. What is that chemical to produce such an effect?"

Worried Over His Work

Ravenna, O., Aug. 29.—"I'm going to start home," John M. Reeves, 50, a farmer, telephoned from Ravenna, where he had been visiting his sister, to his wife. Then he shot and killed himself. He had been traveling for an agricultural implement concern and was worrying about his work.

Chief Kohler No Better.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 29.—Chief Kohler, latest reports from Bonn-on-the-Rhine say, is not recovering his health as rapidly as he had hoped. The chief wears a worried look and confesses to having lost considerable sleep.

Child Held For Ransom

New York, Aug. 29.—Vincenzo Sabella, head of an Italian grocery and importing firm, declared that a Black Hand band of kidnapers had taken his seven-year-old son, Vincenzo Jr., and is holding the child for ransom. He says that he has received six letters demanding $10,000 since the disappearance of the boy three weeks ago.

DAMAGING TALE IS RELATED BY COUSIN OF HENRY BEATTIE DAY OF SURPRISES AND VICTORY FOR STATE

He Testifies Henry Beattie Said "I Wish I Hadn't Done It."

SENSATION IN MURDER TRIAL

Paul Beattie, Called to the Stand, Is Questioned About a Meeting Between Witness and the Prisoner on the Day Following the Murder of the Latter's Wife—Sinford Girl's Mother and Mother-in-Law of the Accused Also Testify.

Chesterfield C. H., Va., Aug. 29.—With intense emotion Paul D. Beattie, cousin of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., who stands indicted for the murder of his wife, revealed on the witness stand that the accused told him 24 hours after the murder how sorry he was "he had done it," a circumstance relating to the crime that the witness hitherto had suppressed.

Louis Wendenburg, commonwealth prosecutor, addressed a question to him.

"When you saw Henry the next day after the murder, what did he say to you, if anything?" was the query.

"The next day I saw Henry, he was sitting on the porch drinking a bottle of beer. I told him things looked black and I was sorry for him. 'I wish to God I had not done it,' Paul," he said, "though I know she never loved me, and she married me only for my money. I'd give a million dollars to have this thing undone. I wonder how those detectives found out there was No. 6 shot in

Hogan Interprets The Winters Law

Street Railways Can Not Be Compelled to Extend Lines.

Columbus, O., Aug. 29.—Street railways can not be compelled by the Ohio public service commission to extend their lines to accommodate new traffic. That is Attorney General Hogan's interpretation of the Winters law, made at the instance of the commission, which had been asked by Cincinnati citizens to force the Schoepf lines to extend their service from Cincinnati out to the village of Bond Hill, which has just been annexed. As Hogan reads the law, the commission may order the company to make improvements, repairs and even extensions to facilitate handling of present traffic, but can not make it reach out for new traffic.

Cement Elephant Decorates the Lawn of Larchmont Yacht Club

ELEPHANTS are always interesting, whether alive or dead or even when they are inanimate. The picture above shows a reproduction of the animal Kipling calls Old Two Tails on the grounds of the Larchmont Yacht club, near New York. The elephant is made of cement and will probably have as long an existence as an elephant of flesh, bones and hide. The little girl in the picture was not one bit afraid of the elephant, and if she had been supplied with peanuts she would probably have tried to feed the animal, as children have done in circuses and zoological parks from time immemorial.

Western Poet Kemp Talks Airs Views on Marriage

Papers Served in the Sinclair Suit for Divorce.

New York, Aug. 29.—Papers were served on Mrs. Meta Turner Sinclair in the action for divorce brought against her by her husband, Upton Sinclair, the Socialist writer. Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair met at a local hotel and discussed the future of their nine-year-old son, David. They agreed that he should go in the fall to a school in Germany, his father taking him there. The conference over Mrs. Sinclair left town for Arden.

During the day Harry Kemp, rough-and-ready traveler and poet, whose name Upton Sinclair has brought into the divorce proceedings he is instituting against his wife, was seen at the same hotel, where he gave out his version of the middle. Mrs. Sinclair sat by while the westerner was talking and from time to time added comments of her own to what the man whose name has been linked with hers had to say about social conditions and the marriage question. Kemp said:

"As it stands today, the ceremony of marriage is the property of the church. It ought to be taken away from the church and given over to its rightful possessors—the persons interested—and the state. The churches presume to control marriage, but their officers exercise no discrimination. They marry anyone who applies to them and pays for it. Then, as soon as you are married, they try to hold you right there and make it as burdensome and as disagreeable as possible for you to separate. The process of getting a separation ought to be made as easy as possible. Its difficulty is the reason why so many men and women are in theory puritans and are so secretly rotten.

"A change in the public attitude toward these matters can take place only gradually, as persons who can stand ridicule break away, one by one. When the change comes, we shall have real monogamic relations instead of the present concubinage—and the average married woman is nothing more or less than a concubine."

The poet said that he didn't know whether or not he and Mrs. Sinclair ever would be married.

Big Shoot By Cracks At Camp

Forty-two Teams Compete in the Big National Shoot.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 29.—At the shooting of the national team match here, 42 teams, representing the regular army and navy and marine corps and the national guard of the several states, are competing for the congressional trophy, the Hilton trophy and the Soldier of Marathon. Only two ranges were fired over, at 200 yards slow-fire and at 200 yards rapid-fire. When the competitors left the former the marine corps team was in the lead with a score of 512 and the army infantry second with 503. After the rapid-fire the infantry led, having made the high score at that stage, and the high aggregate for the day of 1,063.

Would Oust The Toledo Car Company

Toledo, O., Aug. 29.—Suit was filed by the city to oust the Toledo Railways and Light company from sections of 18 streets where franchises have expired and over which cars are being operated. The suit grows out of the failure of the company to pay a rental of $250 a day for the use of the streets on which franchises have expired. A permanent injunction is sought by the city. The directors of the company will meet Thursday to decide upon what action will be taken.

"FAYETTE, INFERIOR COUNTY" According to Old Gazetteer FOUND BY MR. ALMER HEGLER

Monday's Columbus Dispatch devoted a column and a half to the information contained in an old "Ohio Gazetteer and Topographical Dictionary" which was published by John Kilbourn in 1819, and which gave the population of Columbus at 1500.

This rare old Gazetteer was found in an attic at Akron, and is one of a very few in existence. Mr. Almer Hegler of the M. Hamm Fertilizer Company, this city, has a copy of the same gazetteer which is in a splendid state of preservation, although yellowed with age.

The gazetteer was printed at Chillicothe by Bailhache & Scott, printers in 1819, and besides containing information relating to Columbus, treats of all the counties in Ohio.

That John Kilbourn was very much misinformed and compiled the history as much by guess work as by digging after facts, is borne out by his assertion that Fayette was generally hilly.

Speaking of Fayette, the book says in full: "Fayette, an inferior county, bounded on the north by Madison county, on the east by Pickaway and Ross, on the south by Highland and west by Clinton and Greene counties. It is about 23 by 18 miles in extent. The principal waters are Deer and Paint creeks. The land is generally hilly and of a moderately good quality. The valuation of its property is $485,982, and its population is 3,705. County seat is Washington. It is divided into the six following townships: Jefferson, Paint, Madison, Union, Wayne and Green."

At the time the book was published, Fayette undoubtedly looked woolly enough, and was one unbroken wilderness, except for the very worst kind of corduroy and mud roads. Indians still tarried throughout the county, and wild game was abundant. Fayette was indeed a dreary county, and was "Little Bristle" sure enough. It was uninviting, but the sturdy frontiersmen never gave up the struggle, but watched Fayette blossom as the rose, and long before this day, Fayette "the inferior county" has taken a place in the front rank as "the garden spot of Ohio", and is an ideal place to live. Mr. Hegler will give the valuable volume to the State Museum, where he already has nearly 700 valuable articles preserved. He is justly proud of the volume in question.

Good Crowd Attends Monthly Stock Sales

A good sized crowd attended the monthly stock sales in this city Tuesday, and a large number of horses change hands, the number comparing favorably with the usual number of sales.

Foreign buyers have bought everything in sight if it could be obtained at anything like a reasonable figure. Many of the farmers, having finished the most of their team work for the summer, are selling off their surplus horses rather than carry them through winter.

LININGER REUNION.

The annual reunion of the Lininger family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lininger, six miles east of this city on the Hess road. More than eighty members of the family were present. It was decided to hold the next reunion on the last Sunday in August, 1912, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Day, at Rock Mills.

A Thin Ten-cent Piece Causes Killing in Crap Game

It's the same old story—an N. & W. construction camp in Ross county, a crap game with a few cents at stake, booze, quarrel, bad men and a killing.

The affair took place Sunday afternoon while a lively crap game was in progress and Mose Talmer, alias Mose Jones, and a one-legged negro whose name could not be learned, were the two who became engaged in an altercation over the winning of a dime.

Talmer is said to have drawn his revolver, a 38-caliber Colts, and shot his opponent through the body, and he died a short time later. The negro then left camp and is still at large. The authorities have been warned to keep a close watch for the fellow, who has a bad record.

Talmer is a large colored man with a scar on the left side of his nose. At the time of the shooting he wore a striped cap, blue overalls and a new blue working jacket.

Portsmouth Woman Sent To Springfield

Margaret Moore, the woman who arrived in this city early in July in company with Frank Martin, alias William Nichols, and gave birth to a child in the Hodson Hospital, and who was later found to have been living with the man who was the father of her child, and was sent from this city to Portsmouth to be placed in the infirmary at that place, has been shipped to the Clark county infirmary and given into the keeping of the infirmary Directors.

The woman caused an expense of $38.95 while in this county, and this amount was paid by Scioto county. What became of the man, who, with the woman, was under indictment at Portsmouth, has not been learned.

Defective Law Will be Tested

A suit to test the law authorizing prosecuting attorneys to hire dry detectives to ferret out liquor law violators, will be filed at Zanesville at the request of Attorney General Hogan.

The suit will be brought to mandamus the presiding judge of common pleas district to fix the salary of the county detectives.

The law says that the salary is to be fixed by the presiding judge of the judicial sub-division. There is no such judge, it is held, but prosecutor Hunt of Hamilton county insists, contrary to the opinion of the Attorney General, that the presiding judge of the district may act under the law.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me. boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. Farmers Take a Hand Want Their Own Man Farmers surrounding Frankfort held a meeting a few days ago for the purpose of selecting a suitable candidate whom they could trust to represent them at the Constitutional convention, the prospective candidates named in Ross county not appealing to them as the proper men.

It was eventually agreed that one man should be selected from each township, and a vote will be taken at a general convention to be held in Chillicothe soon.

Nelson Dunlap is at the head of the movement it is claimed, and says that the two candidates in the field will not do, because one of them is a lawyer and the other represents corporations. It now appears that the Ross county farmers will be the ones who select the convention candidate.

The fire department was called out to protect the wreck from fire. It required several hours to clear away the debris, and as a consequence the passenger trains were late.

Walnut Hill school house in Jefferson township, near Bookwalter will be abandoned this fall and no school will be held because there are only two pupils in the district to attend the school.

Last year this school was conducted at a heavy expense with only two pupils reaping the benefit most of the time. The number at one time was four pupils, but two were considered regulars. The two will be placed in another district this fall.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. "Darkness Perfection" was known wherever Poland Chinas are raised, and was as near perfection as it seemed possible for a hog to be. He was valued at near the $5,000 mark. He represented the best blood in the

Damage Tale Related by Cousin of Beattie

Henry Beattie had been listening to the previous preliminary testimony of his cousin with the flicker of a tolerant smile about the corners of his mouth. When this speech was given his eyes suddenly dilated so that all the white showed, his fingers clutched and the nails bit into the palms of his hands. It was evident that neither the boy's father nor his lawyers had expected anything like this straight from the lips of Paul Beattie.

"And now go on." The insinuating voice of the prosecutor broke the intense silence in the courtroom. "What else did he say to you at that time?"

"I said to him: 'I'm sorry you got me into this business, Henry.' He answered quickly: 'You're not in half as bad a fix as I am,' and then when I started to go away he grabbed me and spoke to me hurriedly: 'Paul,' said he, 'I want you to stick by me. You will never regret it. You wouldn't go back on me, would you? You keep your mouth shut about all this and stick by me.' Then I said to him: 'I won't stick anywhere; if they come after me, I'll tell them all I know.'"

Thus it was done. By these words from the lips of the hatchet-faced youth of 21 the commonwealth's attorneys drove into a case that has been up to this minute purely one of circumstantial evidence, a lever of fact, a practical confession.

Mrs. Claudia Binford, mother of 17-year-old Beulah Binford, was next called. She said she became acquainted with Beattie through her daughter Beulah, four years ago. "The illicit relations began then," she said. "When she was 13 years old they continued for several weeks and were broken off when we sent Beulah away to school. We wanted to send her to the house of correction, but Father Edward interceded for her. Henry Beattie furnished the money. She stayed at school three weeks, and when she came back she renewed her relations with Beattie. A year later, in 1909, a child was born to her. It died last year." The child's name, she added, was Henry Clay Binford.

Mrs. R. V. Owen, a pathetic figure in black, also testified against her son-in-law. Through a maze of questions it developed that Beattie had not invited Mrs. Owen to ride with her daughter on the night of the murder, although it had been his custom to do so. The weeping mother declared that when Henry Beattie brought to her the blood-soaked body of her murdered daughter she cried to him: "Who could have been so cruel as to kill our angel girl?" Shaking her head, she said he made no reply.

The second sweeping order issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, of which the C. A. & C. is a part, was issued last week, and this time the order requires cutting of expenses as never before attempted, and in every conceivable way which will not seriously cripple the service. It may mean the laying off of 20,000 employees within a month's time.

Some freight trains will, it is believed, be taken off but thus far no curtailment of passenger train service is contemplated.

The order was given as the result of a continued decrease in gross earnings. Operating expenses appear unusually high. In the first six months of the year up to June 30, the gross earnings of the system, including eastern and western lines, fell $7,837,703 behind the same period last year, while net earnings were $3,875,216 behind.

Similar conditions have been reported by most of the other important railroad companies. The Union Pacific announced vigorous retrenchment. The Southern Pacific laid off 6000 employees in pursuance of a similar policy.

The full force of the order will not be felt until September 1. Department heads are instructed to use their discretion as to reductions in their forces until that time.

In laying off employees, it is understood every consideration possible will be shown those long in the service and to men with families. Railroad officials are hopeful that a revival of business will make the retrenchment period brief.

Injured Man's Family Extend Their Thanks

THE HERALD is in receipt of a letter of thanks from the family of Thomas McCoy, of Jackson, O., the young man who fell beneath a freight train in this city on August 3rd, and whose leg was severed by the wheels of the freight.

At the time the young man was hurried to the Hodson Hospital and prompt action saved his life. It is good news to learn that he is still on the road to recovery.

The letter in full, says: Jackson, O., Aug. 28, 1911. We desire to extend our grateful thanks to the people of Washington for the sympathy and kindness shown us, and especially to Dr. Hunter and the Hodson Hospital staff for the way they cared for our son and brother, Tom McCoy, during the two weeks he lay in the hospital there, from injuries received under the cars on August 3rd.

He is now getting along nicely and will soon be well, but we realize that he owes his life to the skillful treatment and care he received at their hands. Again for the want of a better expression, we say thanks. THE FAMILY.

Groceries Go Down On Main Street

Groceries took a drop, on South Main street this morning when Union delivery wagon No. 6 lost a wheel, which collapsed while the wagon was rattling up the street.

A new wheel, a hurried gathering together of various packages, and the driver went his way rejoicing.

Farmers along the line of the C. A. & C. will be interested in knowing that an agricultural special train is to be run over that railroad, September 12, 13 and 14, 1911. It will be operated in Delaware, Knox, Holmes, Wayne, Coshocton, Muskingum, Fairfield, Pickaway, Fayette, Clinton and Warren counties, making 26 different stops at which lectures on soil improvement, wheat culture, seed corn selection and horticulture will be given. The lectures will be given on board the train, and everyone is invited to hear them.

The train will stop an hour at each place and the time of arrival will be as follows:

September 12. Sunbury, 7:50 a. m.; Centerburg, 9:10 a. m.; Mt. Vernon, 10:30 a. m.; Howard, 11:50 a. m.; Danville, 1:00 p. m.; Brink Haven, 2:40 p. m.; Glenmont, 4:15 p. m.; Millersburg, night meeting, 7:30 p. m. in a hall to be provided.

RETURN OF SCHOOL DAYS.

The near approach of school days has much of romance in it for those who incline that way, much of sorrow and gloom for the active restless boys and girls who naturally rebel at the discipline and work of the school room, and also much of real hard practical financing for the father and mother of large families with modest means, struggling to give their children the advantages of a good schooling.

Many men are sorely pressed financially to cloth the little ones in presentable manner, furnish them with the necessary books, tablets, pencils, pens and inks in order that they may not be humiliated and therefore handicapped in the fight for knowledge so essential nowadays to success.

No one thing has given the people of the nation and especially of Ohio more concern during the last few years than the school book problem.

Legislation has been promised, expected, offered and partially or wholly defeated at frequent intervals during the last decade, designed to furnish the people relief against the greedy claims of school book monopolies.

To be continually changing the text books entails a big item of expense on the parents, and school boards should avoid all changes in text books unless a necessity extraordinarily urgent makes a change imperative.

It was openly charged during the last session of the State Legislature, that the big book companies absolutely made and unmade and controlled by far the greater number of superintendents throughout the state; that teachers and members of school boards were continually under the watchful eye of the school book manipulators, who make the larger portions of their enormous profits from the switch in text book orders made by school boards upon the recommendation of those actively engaged in the school work, and in reality in many instances under the control of the school book trust.

The people of Ohio have their eyes on school boards and teachers, and will refuse to quietly submit longer to having their pockets turned inside out and the contents dumped into the coffers of the big book companies by the simple locus pocus of an order changing text books.

Economical people of modest means teach their children to be careful of their school books so that they may be used by the younger children in turn and the expense saved by this plan is a considerable item of the grand aggregate cost of raising a family.

The people of the State of Ohio are well on the way in the work of curbing this needless expense for school books and so thoroughly have they become aroused to the abuses past and threatened that an order changing the text books in the public schools had better be founded on a real necessity or public disapproval will make existence a burden for the man who "puts one over" at the expense of the heads of families.

The school book companies have feasted for many years in the people's strawberry patch, and grown fat and impudent at their expense, but now that the awakening has come no more slight-of-hand short change work will be tolerated.

There are occasions when books should be changed—no doubt of that—but the necessity should be real and not a mere blind and sham devised to take dollars from the pockets of the toilers.

The cost of school books is one of the items of the "present high cost of living" bill which can be reduced and the people have set to work to do it too.

doubt, practically the entire care through the day of children who are hardly more than infants.

The authority and affection of the home are in some measure superseded by those of the school, and it is well known that parents are tempted to take advantage of the kindergarten system to shirk parental responsibility.

For children of tender years the home influence, if it embraces what can be called a home, should be the controlling factor in instilling family love and unselfishness.

The old-fashioned child over whom parental authority was exercised much more effectively was quite as bright and good as the new-fashioned child for whom discipline has been so universally relaxed.

It is a hopeless plan to attempt to improve the mind or the moral nature of children under ten years of age by placing them in what practically are prisons.

The home is the only natural place for the child, and our efforts ought to be directed to making it in all cases the fittest place.

STEWED LAMBS' TONGUES.—The stewed lambs' tongues [half a dozen] for dinner are to be simmered in slightly salted boiling water for half an hour, then drained, skinned and trimmed. Place them in a clean saucepan with one onion and 3 small carrots cut fine, 4 fine large tomatoes, skinned and cut fine, and a scant pint of the pot liquor. Cover closely and simmer for almost two hours. Thicken the gravy slightly with blended flour and water, add salt and pepper to taste and return to the fire. Make dumplings as for chicken fricassee, drop into the boiling liquid, cover and simmer for fifteen minutes without uncovering. In serving arrange the tongues in the center of the platter with the dumplings around them and strain the gravy over all.

POETRY
FOR TODAY

LONG AGO.

I once knew all the birds that came
And nested in our orchard trees,
For every flower I had a name—
My friends were woodchucks, toads
and bees;

I knew where thrived in yonder glen
What plants would soothe a stonebruised toe—

Oh, I was very learned then,
But that was very long ago.
And, pining for the joys of youth,
I tread the old familiar spot
Only to learn this solemn truth;

I have forgotten, am forgot.
Yet, here's this youngster at my knee Knows all the things I used to know;

To think I once was wise as he!—
But that was very long ago.

I know it's folly to complain
Of whatso'er the fates decree,
Yet, were not wishes all in vain,
I tell you what my wish should be:
I'd wish to be a boy again,
Back with the friends I used to
know;

But that was very long ago.

No Sport

Uncle Timothy was a dear old soul, but he had one inevitable failing. He always paid his visits at the wrong times.

"It's most awkward of him!" exclaimed the about-to-be hostess on one of these unfortunate occasions. "He has an enormous appetite and we haven't a thing in the house. You'll have to kill a chicken, John!"

Her spouse looked doubtful. He was very tender-hearted and the mere notion of wringing a bird's neck or beheading it set his knees a-wabbling.

"But perhaps dear, I might manage to shoot one," he suggested; and took his gun and departed on his bloodthirsty errand.

Minutes went by—many minutes.
So many, in fact, that his wife went out into the yard to see what had happened.

"I'm afraid it's no good, my dear," called her husband timorously, as she approached. "The poor creature won't get in the way!"

BOTH UNCERTAIN.

"What's the difference between plain bridge and auction bridge?"
"About a hundred dollars an hour."

Cedar Closet

Take the largest closet you can spare; clean it thoroughly. Now take old fashioned wooden curtain poles and place the first one sixteen inches from the ceiling. Then place another forty inches from the floor. Cut poles so they fit tight and nail small piece of wood under each end to keep pole firm. Now put medium sized screw hooks in lower pole. Leave upper pole free to hang coats, etc., on coat hangers. Now take cedar paper; two dozen, two packages of brass headed tacks; begin at top and line the whole closet, overlapping each sheet. Line the door and floor with the paper.
Tack paper so it comes three inches over jam of door inside. Blankets and all heavy things can be piled on the floor. With plenty of room to hang heavy garments on top and smaller things on the bottom, this is possibly mothproof.

Jiu-Jitsu Useless.

A cricket club formed a gymnasium for the use of its members during the winter months, and an instructor was engaged to teach jiu-jitsu.

Recently one of the cricketers turned up with a bandaged head and said some youth had inflicted the injury.
"What!" exclaimed the jiu-jitsu instructor. "You mean to say you let a youth knock you about like that?
Why didn't you try jiu-jitsu?"

"I couldn't."
"Nonsense! There's no conceivable situation to which jiu-jitsu cannot be successfully applied. Show me where he gripped you."

"I'm sorry to say he didn't grip me anywhere. He dropped a brick on my head from a third floor window."

Q.—What proof have we that the ages of the antediluvians were stated in years and not in lunar months, as taught by some scientists?

Answer.—Many have endeavored to account for the remarkable longevity of the antediluvians, some of whom lived to the ripe old age of 800 and 900 years, Methuselah, the oldest man mentioned in the Bible, being an elderly gentleman of 969 years of age, by offering various theories, one of which is referred to in the question before us. However we can readily see by consulting the Sacred Narrative, that this theory would not fit the situation. The 5th chapter of Genesis, in setting forth the genealogy of different ones, states the ages when these had children. If we were to estimate on the basis of a year as being in reality only a lunar month of time we become involved in difficulties, for according to this method of reckoning, Cainan was but five years and ten months of age when he had a son; also Mahalaleel was five years and five months old when his son, Jared, was born. The real cause of advanced ages of those who lived prior to the deluge is presented in the Bible. The human race had deteriorated but slightly from that condition of perfection which Adam had enjoyed preceding his disobedience. Consequently, with splendid organisms and very slightly impaired vitality, the spark of life would be maintained for centuries. How different the conditions now, when the average length of life is about thirty-five years! Malignant diseases, caused by germs and bacteria, are infesting the race fearfully, and even with all the aid of science and hygienic precautions, how hard to preserve the dim spark of life.

HUNTED BY A WALRUS.

The Big Bull Got Quite Sociable Before He Was Done For.

In George Borup's "A Tenderfoot With Perry" appears an exciting incident of walrus hunting. During a raid upon a herd of fifty walrus asleep on a pan "it was blowing some, and the choppy waves made the shooting look as if the guns had spiral barrels." The ineffective target practice produced these hair raising developments a few seconds later: "Suddenly a giant bull rose out of the water just along side of Wesharkoupsi. He threw his harpoon, but as the barb came off he might as well have heaved a lead pencil.

The walrus gave a derisive grunt, div. ed, and a second later shot out of the water on the other side, deluged us with liquid and came down slap bang on the gunwale of the boat opposite me.

"By this time Wesharkoupsi was high in the air and out for an altitude record. Instead of throwing his harpoon he threw his soul into his yells and just spit in the brute's face. The other huskies were trying to back water or hit him over the head with the oars, nearly sideswiping me and incidentally short circuiting their cussing at Wesharkoupsi, the walrus and everything is general.

"All this time the walrus was sitting alongside of me, asking if there were any more at home like Wesharkoupsi. It was easier to pull his whiskers or smash his mug with my fist than shoot. If I held the gun to my shoulder the muzzle would stick beyond his head, so, firing from the hip, I gave him the entente cordiale."

Train Smashes Automobile.

Akron, O., Aug. 28.—While it was crossing the railroad tracks at Kenmore, near here, an automobile containing seven persons was struck by a passenger train. Jack Didion of Akron was instantly killed and five others were injured.

Hardwood Floors

Put one quart of turpentine in a mason self sealing jar. To this add four ounces of finely cut beeswax. Adjust the lid and set in sunshine. Shake it occasionally until beeswax is dissolved and it is the consistency of thick cream. Apply with a small rag, rubbing thoroughly into floors and polish with soft cloth after it is dry. Easy to apply and, once used will never be discarded. Fine, also, for linoleums and painted floors.

STILL LOOKING.

"Waiting for your sweetheart?" "No; we're married now. It's the same thing, though, only that I have to watch until about midnight now."

Prospective.

Young Huggins (timorously)—Rollo, I am going to—er—er—ask your father to-night for your sister's hand in marriage. What do you think he will say?

Her Little Brother—Oh, he'll say "Thank you!" unless he's so rattled that he forgets it. But, now, don't be mad if it slips his mind, for you see how it is.—2—c.

ATTACK LIKE TIGERS.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

GETTING THE FACTS.

His Second Story Probably Differed From the First One.

Long experience as a consulting attorney has given Mr. Mooney a judicial habit of mind. He never accepts the facts at par value, but always leads those facts into the rear office and drops acid in their eyes. The other day a friend rushed in, warm and red.

"Mooney," said the friend excitedly, "I've been insulted. Hinks just met me and called me all sorts of names. We've had trouble over that partition matter, you know. He said I was a pettifogger and a thief and a scoundrel and a perjurer and a wire haired thing."

"Um," said Mr. Mooney, sitting farther down in his chair and looking at the speaker over his glasses. "Um! And what do you propose to do about it?"

"What do I propose to do about it? Why, I was so astounded at the moment that I could make no reply at all. But, now that I have somewhat recovered myself, I have determined to go down to Hinks' office and knock his block off. I'll beat him to a quivering froth."

"Um!" said Mr. Mooney, slipping down a notch. "Um! So would I, if any one called me the names that Hinks called you. But before you go suppose you sit down with me for a moment."

The indignant friend took a chair. "Now," said Mooney, dangling his eyeglasses "what are the facts in the case?"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

No Caste in Snores.

The cause and cure of snoring concern all classes, says the London Chronicle. We have record that both the house of lords and the workhouse have suffered from it. There was a former Duke of Norfolk who fell into the habit of sleeping audibly in the lords, and it happened that he was hard at it on one occasion when a bill concerning the parish of Great Snoring, in Norfolk, came before the house. The roar of laughter with which the duke's title was greeted awakened the duke and relieved his fellow peers. At the other end of the social scale we have the poor law commission authority's commendation of the industrious workhouse master who divided the old men at night so that the snorers and the deaf men slept in one ward and the rest in another.

Stranger's Confession.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 29.—A stranger, Felix Crabb, 42, conscience-stricken, confessed to the police to the murder of an unknown man at Abilene (Kan.) fair grounds, 12 years ago, in a quarrel over a crap game.

Can You Beat This?

ONE MAN WOULD have it that a collie is the most sagacious of dogs, while the other stood up for the setter.

"I once owned a setter," declared the latter, "which was very intelligent. I had him on the street one day, and he acted so queerly about a certain man we met that I asked the man his name, and—"

"Oh, that's an old story!" the collie's advocate broke in sneeringly. "The man's name was Partridge, of course, and because of that the dog came to a set. Ho! Ho! Come again!"

"You're mistaken," replied the other, suavely. "The dog didn't come quite to a set, though almost. As a matter of fact, the man's name was Quayle, and the dog hesitated on account of the spelling."

BIG BONUS VOTE OFFER BEST CHANCE TO WIN TO SECURE EXTRA VOTES

Candidates Should Use Every Effort—New Subscriptions Are Worth More Than
At Any Other Time.

To get in the running and work hard every minute—that is the way to win in any venture, and in The Herald and Register contest this rule is especially applicable. Don't depend on your friends to hustle for you. They will come to your assistance when they see that you are thoroughly interested.

Is this effort worth while? A glance at the list of prizes answers this question most emphatically. In no contest ever inaugurated in this city, have such costly prizes been offered. And perhaps never again will such opportunities be placed before the people of Fayette county. Think 24 and Aug. 31, at 5:30 p. m., 12,000 extra votes will be given. For every 25 new subscriptions, 30,000 extra votes will be given.

It reads like the glowing offers which were advertised before Uncle Sam intervened doesn't it? But it is a bonafide business-like proposition made by The Herald and Register, the leading papers in Fayette Co.

When you approach your friends for subscriptions, remember that you are not asking something for nothing, you are giving them full value received.

The Herald and Register are live, modern newspapers, and the interest shown since this contest was announced plainly indicates the part they play in the daily lives of Fayette county people.

No "chance" or "guessing" or "luck" about it, the best hustler wins the prizes. Get busy and show your friends that you have the hustling and staying abilities. The Bonus Vote Offer for NEW subscriptions closes Thursday, August 31. ALL candidates should get in on this offer, and save the extra votes. Keep at it, don't say "Oh, I have no chance" for you have a chance and right now is the time to secure many thousand extra votes.

TO BE A WINNER.

First—Familiarize yourself with the conditions of the contest.

Second—Let your friends know that you are in to win and you will be surprised to see your score shoot upward in a very short time.

DON'T HOLD SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Candidates are requested to turn in their subscriptions often. In this way subscribers will get their papers and you will get their votes. You do not have to wait until you have the required number of subscriptions for the extra vote offer, but may turn in one, two, three or more at a time. A record of each subscription will be kept in this office and the bonus ballot called for on the total number of subscriptions turned in for the week will be issued.

WHO ARE ELIGIBLE.

Any lady or gentleman living in Washington or in Fayette or adjoining counties will be eligible to enter the great contest.

HOW TO ENTER CONTEST.

It costs you absolutely nothing to enter the contest. All that is necessary is for you or one of your friends to cut a nomination blank from the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald, fill it out with your name or that of a friend and mail or bring it to the Contest Manager at the Register-Herald office; that will start you in the contest with 500 votes. You may also clip the vote coupons which will be found in this issue and that will count you 100 more votes.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO.

The person who receives the largest number of votes in the entire contest will receive the Schaff Bros. Player Piano. The person who receives the second highest number of votes will receive the H. Link & Son Upright Piano with this restriction, that if the player piano is won in district No. 1, the upright piano must be awarded to the opposite district, or vice versa. In this way one of the grand prizes will be won in Washington and one outside of Washington. After the grand prizes have been awarded, the names of the winners will be stricken from the list and the holders of the first places will then be given the prizes known as District 1st prize. The same plan will be used in awarding the District 2d prizes.

Remember, three prizes will be given to each district, and each and every candidate will receive a square deal. One district will not have the advantage over another. District No. 1 will receive a grand prize and two district prizes. District No. 2 will also receive a grand prize and two district prizes.

Address all communications to the Contest Manager, Register-Herald, Washington C. H., Ohio. See the Contest Manager for instructions and all details of the contest.

THE DISTRICTS.

District No. 1 comprises the incorporate limits of Washington C. H. towns and villages therein.

District No. 2 comprises the county of Fayette outside of Washington and the adjoining counties, including the votes.

STARTED ROUGH HOUSE RECEIVES KNIFE WOUNDS NEARLY BLEEDS TO DEATH

"If you want to find out whose boss around here, start something" is what appealed to Burnie Brannan, of Circleville, when he hid himself to the Pressing & Orr Canning factory and proceeded to abuse some of the employees.

Brannan had absorbed too much of the very liberal supply of what the Circleville Herald terms "Alley whiskey", which is a full brother to the "blind tiger" brand that city has hitherto dished up to supply the demand.

Brannan succeeded in intimidating a number of employees, and laid hands upon a woman, when Marion Noggle, an inspector in the plant, took the matter up and was knocked down for his trouble. Noggle was knocked down again and again, and the last time he came back he brandished a knife and stabbed Brannan in the leg, severing an artery which nearly resulted in the bully's death before he reached a doctor.

Elmhurst, Wis. Aug. 29. — Fire practically destroyed this town. The total loss is estimated at $200,000. A sawmill, $100,000 worth of timber, six stores and 14 residences were destroyed.

over last year's valuation. The Dayton Lighting company was increased from $300,000 to $2,202,000; the Canton Electric company, from $154,000 to $1,556,000; the Sandusky Gas and Electric, from $74,250 to $500,000; the Springfield Light, Heat and Power, from $297,000 to $725,000; the Youngstown Consolidated Gas and Electric company, from $345,000 to $2,817,920.

Other large increases were as follows: Citizens' Electric Light, Logan, increased from $5,900 to $12,500; Circleville Light and Power company, from $13,930 to $50,000; Delaware Electric Light, Heat and Power company, from $33,800 to $135,000; Lancaster Electric Light plant, from $12,000 to $80,000; Logan Light and Power company, from $4,510 to $15,000; Marysville Light and Water company, from $28,180 to $112,720; New Lexington Electric Light, from $4,410 to $17,500; Prospect Electric Light and Power company, from $1,580 to $14,000; Urbana Light company, from $22,825 to $60,000.

The Buckeye Pipe Line company, subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, was hardest hit in valuations placed by the tax commission. Its valuation was increased from $4,635,000 in 1910 to $23,281,806, an increase of more than 600 per cent. The company is partly responsible for the existence of the tax commission. Other pipe line companies and a number of water transportation companies must pay taxes on increased valuations.

The total value of all pipe line property in the state, according to the final figures of the tax commission, is $29,740,256, while last year this was on the duplicate for only $5,122,756. The increase made by the commission is $24,619,500, or more than 475 per cent.

New blood was injected into the tax duplicate also by the commission when it announced its final figures upon water transportation companies, which were never valued until this year. Ten companies are placed on the state duplicate for $129,600, this amount being pure gain to the duplicate.

The Soda Fountain Has Done Much Toward Helping the Temperance Cause

Within the last few years there has been hundreds of thousands of Soda Fountains built and put into service throughout the United States. During the same number of years there has been thousands and millions of people drinking these pure fruit juice beverages. Every year there are many more who join this happy and healthful band of Soda drinkers to quench their thirst, satisfy their appetites and relieve their hunger. Thousands who once drank Beer and Whisky and other intoxicants, now drink the unfermented fruit juice beverages, because they find there is no harm in them.

Thousands of towns and cities have driven the Saloon from their midst, but never has any prosperous city or town prohibited the sale of SODA WATER.

The Cozy Corner HAS A PERFECTLY SANITARY SODA FOUNTAIN AND SERVES ALL THE POPULAR PURE AND UNFERMENTED FRUIT JUICE SODAS. OUR SERVICE IS UNEXCELLED—OUR PARLOR IS CLEAN, NICELY FURNISHED, WELL VENTILATED AND PROPERLY KEPT.

Then patronize the Soda Fountain—lend your influence to the Fountain Man and thus help build up and honest and harmless industry—one that will eventually stamp out the old booze habit and leave the country all drinking Pure Unfermented Fruit Juice Sodas.

Diegel Still Draws Pay.
Columbus, O., Aug. 28.—Rodney J. Diegel, though convicted of bribery, is still on the state's payroll. Last Monday, the day before he promised to make a confession to Attorney General Hogan and Prosecuting Attorney Turner, he drew $150 from the state treasury, which is at the rate of $5 a day for his services as sergeant-at-arms of the senate and its custodian between sessions. The attorney general has held that he does not forfeit his office until sentenced and has been imposed upon him.

ESSANAY Judge Simpkin's Summer Court COMEDY
On the chance of earning a few shillings helping to move a hencoop for a neighboring farmer Judge Simpkins adjourned court. Three tramps, one of whom was a magician, finding the court vacant occupy it, and begin to exact toll from passing automobilists in the guise of fines. The last victim had no money, so they took his erratic motor car, and the antics of this lend spice to the ensuing chase by the real officers. They are captured. It's an amusing trick film.

KALEM The Cattle Herder's Romance WESTERN DRAMA
In this Western romance a couple elope and are married without parental consent. They take up their abode in a little cabin. Later, another man is brought in badly injured. The woman is introduced as the sister of the young man. The injured man falls in love with the woman, which creates a bad complication. How this complication is finally smoothed out and everybody made happy is told in Kalem's best manner.

Shell the green peas as for cooking and to one gallon of shelled peas add one-half cup of white sugar. Put in a dripping pan in the oven and cook until done, then open the oven door and let dry with a slow fire. There will be a good deal of juice in them when they are cooked, but will all dry to them. They will take about a day to dry. Shell the peas the day they are to be used, because standing impairs the flavor. Put them dry in paper sacks and they will keep all winter.

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWees photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
